Hutcheon writes a very compelling text, citing a large number of texts in her presentation of her theory of the self-referential metafictional narrative. Intellectually most seductive is the central role she assigns to the reader and the reading process, which in the wake of post-structuralism and postmodern attempts to debunk the authority of the author offers a new source of meaning.

Narcissistic Narrative

Narcissistic Narrative: the Metafictional Paradox. Well before postmodernism became the buzz-word of academic discourse, novels betrayed symptoms of its infiltration: from Tristram Shandy through to The French Lieutenant's Woman , the novel has been a narcissistic genre, examining within itself its own nature as narrative and as language.. Having placed this self-reflexive phenomenon in its ...
